Workshop Purpose

What?

- Learn how to better integrate library services and resources into your course.

Why?

- Improve your students' ability to find, evaluate and use authoritative and reliable information sources.

Small Discussion…

- How are you currently using the library and its services or resources in your classes?

- Is there anything else (or more) that you would like to do?

Common Library Services & Search Tools

- Library Catalogue
- Articles/Databases
- Course Reserves
- RACER (Interlibrary Loan)
- RefWorks
- Request Forms

Library Presence in LMS

- Learning Management System
  - Desire 2 Learn replaces ELM for Fall 2010
  - New Name! "Avenue to Learn" or "Avenue"; Sandbox available June 18
- Include a librarian in your course! He/she can:
  - Add content such as library assignments and library presentations
  - Add contact information and links to electronic resources
  - Participate in discussions

Your turn!

Search for a copyright-free image that you could use in your courses or presentations.

What did you find?

Creative Commons

"[cc is]...working to revive reasonableness. The freely-available suite of cc licences offers creators a best-of-both-worlds way to protect their works and encourage pre-defined uses by others. The goal is to build a layer of reasonable, flexible copyright in the face of increasingly restrictive default rules."
- Creative Commons Canada

What's the difference?

Creative Commons License

- State right away what others can do with your work
- Legal license
- Easier to share and build on others' work

Copyright ©

- All rights reserved
- May need extra steps to use/get permissions

Attribution means:
You let others copy, distribute, display, and perform your copyrighted work - and derivative works based upon it - but only if they give you credit.

Noncommercial means:
You let others copy, distribute, display, and perform your work - and derivative works based upon it - but for noncommercial purposes only.

No Derivative Works means:
You let others copy, distribute, display, and perform only verbatim copies of your work, not derivative works based upon it.

Share Alike means:
You allow others to distribute derivative works only under a license identical to the license that governs your work.
